From the Amſterdam Gazette, dated Jan. 13.

Venice, Dec. 31.

M. Sebaſtian Mocenigo and M. Mark Loredano are preparing to go from hence in a few Days, on their ſeveral Offices; the firſt is Proveditor General at Sea, the other is Proveditor General of the Morea. Our Letters from Bergamo tell us, that there are about 125 Tranſports and 25 Britiſh and Dutch Men of War ready to ſail from the Coaſt of Genoa with Succours for Catalonia. Several Inhabitants of the Mantuan, who had retir'd out of that Dutchy, are returning home in Compliance with an Edict publiſh'd by the Count of Caſtelbarco. They write from Bologna, that 1500 Imperialiſts continue their March for Naples through the Territories of the Church; in which they are to be furniſh'd with Proviſions, on the Aſſurances given by the Imperial Commiſſaries to repay the Value.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Jan. 13.

Baſil, Jan 5. The Cantons of Lucerne and Zug have return'd Anſwer to the Letters written to them by the Canton of Zurich to invite them to enter into the Alliance of Comburgherſhip in which the Proteſtant Cantons are engag'd with the Principality of Neufchatel, that they will conform themſelves to the Reſolutions of the other Roman-Catholick Cantons. The Marquis de Puiſieux Ambaſſador of the King of France, is not pleas'd with this Anſwer, becauſe thoſe other Roman-Catholick Cantons ſhew themſelves inclin'd to accept the like Invitation made to them on the Part of the Canton of Zurich. Beſides the Militia which the Cantons of Zurich and Berne had caus'd to march towards the Frontiers of Neufchatel, all the other Militia of their Territories have receiv'd Order to hold themſelves in a Readyneſs to march in Caſe the French offer to make an Irruption into the Principality of Neufchatel from Franche Comte, where they have a conſiderable Body of Troops. A general Diet of the Helvetick Body is ſummon'd to meet at Baden the 15th of this Month. The Count de Metternich Plenipotentiary of the King of Pruſſia, offers the Command of the Militia of Neufchatel to Brigadier Sacconay.

From the Antwerp Courant, dated Jan. 13.

Thorn, Dec. 28. The King of Sweden is expected here to Morrow or next Day: King Staniſlaus arriv'd here Yeſterday. The Muſcovites have near Pultawsk a Body of 20 or 25000 Men, who are working on an Intrenchment or Line between 2 Rivers, with Deſign to oppoſe the March of the Swedes into Lithuania. There is great Diſunion between the Muſcovites and Poles, becauſe the former make a general Havock in the Country, not ſparing the Churches nor even the Caſtles and Seats of the Poliſh Nobility that are in the Intereſt of the Czar.

Hamburg, Jan. 6. Letters from Wilna in Lithuania of the 12th of December, tell us, that the Czar of Muſcovy was gone for Moſcow by the Way of Smolensko; but was expected back in Lithuania in a little Time. The Inhabitants of Lithuania are under great Apprehenſions; for notwithſtanding the Muſcovites give out they will keep in that Dutchy and risk a Battle with the Swedes, 'tis foreſeen they will quit the Country when the Swedes advance againſt them, and retire towards their own Frontiers; in which Caſe the Lithuanians will be expos'd to the Reſentment of the Swedes, for adhering ſo firmly as they have done to the Party of the Czar. The Turkiſh Envoy having executed the Commiſſion with which he was ſent from the Ottoman Court to the King of Sweden and King Staniſlaus, and having receiv'd Preſents from thoſe two Kings, is gone back to Conſtantinople by the Way of Hungary.

From the laſt Paris Mercure.

Paris. 'The Republick of Genoa have newly 'elected Don Dominico Mari, of noble Extraction, 'for their Doge. He is known to all Italy by his 'Virtue and Merit. He was one of the noble Genouſe who were deputed to compliment the King 'of Spain [Philip V] when his Majeſty was at 'Genoa. The Government of Genoa is Ariſtocratical, and the Doge who is the Head is always 'aſſiſted by 8 regent Senators and 4 Procurators, 'of which 2 conſtantly reſide with him by Turns 'in the Ducal Palace, and theſe are call'd the Senate: But the Baſis of the Government is, the 'great Council, which is compos'd of 400 Perſons 'choſen from among the antient and modern Nobility. This Council in Conjunction with the 'Signiory, that is to ſay with the Doge, and Senators, decides every thing relating to Peace or War, 'and generally all important Affairs of the State. 'The Doge cannot receive any Viſit, give any Audience, nor open the Letters directed to him, but 'only in the Preſence of the two Senators that reſide in the Palace with him. The Habit worn 'by the Doge on Days of Ceremony, is a Robe of 'red Velvet or Damask, with a Cap of the ſame 'Stuff, both made after an antient Faſhion: He is 'alſo oblig'd to wear a Ruff. His Government laſts 'but two Years; at the End of which a new Election is made, and he that has been once Doge 'cannot be choſen agen till after an Internal of 12 'Years. At the Expiration of their Term of Government the Doges go the Aſſembly of the Colleges of Nobles conven'd to diveſt them of their 'Dignity: On which Occaſion the Secretary of the 'Aſſembly makes Uſe of the following Expreſſion, 'on the Part of the Republick, Your Serenity has 'compleated your Time, Your Excellency may return 'home. Accordingly the depoſed Doge withdraws 'that Moment, and at the Door returns Thanks to 'the Senators and Nobles that accompanied him; 'Then he lays aſide the red Robe, and puts on 'that of a Senator, which he wears the reſt of his 'Life. Some Days after they proceed to the Election of a new Doge, and during the Interregnum 'the eldeſt Senator executes the Office of Doge. To 'make the Election the great Council is conven'd, 'and they nominate 15 Perſons whom they judge 'fitteſt to be advanc'd to the Ducal Dignity: 'Which Liſt being carried to the ſecret Council, 'they reduce them to 6; whoſe Names being return'd to the great Council, the Aſſembly chooſe 'a Doge out of theſe 6 Perſons.

'The Day of the Coronation of M. Dominico 'Mari, Cardinal Fieſchi Archbiſhop of Genoa, perform'd the Ceremony in the Cathedral, with great 'Pomp, the moſt conſiderable Perſons of the City and Territories of Genoa assisting at it. The Ceremony was the more magnificent, because the Cardinal, who was the Pope's Nuncio extraordinary at the Court of France two Years ago, is a Relation of the new Doge; who is likewise related to the Families of Spinola and of the Duke of St. Pierre.

'and
